The Heart of Krishikul: Empowering Farmers Through Training

I'm elated to delve into the heart of "Krishikul" in this month's newsletter. Krishikul isn't your conventional educational center; it's a nurturing ground for practical training, a place where we shape the future of farming. Farmers, as a community, are inherently practical. For them, seeing is believing. That's why at Krishikul, we're forging a "Centre of Excellence." Here, training takes center stage, where farmers acquire not just knowledge but essential skills.

Our vision extends beyond the classroom. Farmers will visit successful counterparts who've thrived within the Global Parli model. These living, breathing examples will reinforce the belief that transformation is not just possible but achievable through knowledge and hands-on experience.

Krishikul embodies our commitment to Rural Economic Transformation, offering a 360-degree approach to development. We've seen the incredible success of our model, with farmers' incomes soaring manifold.

With Krishikul, we do not just intend to impart knowledge; we're looking to build confidence, capability, and a brighter future for our farming communities.

Palghar Noteworthy Events

A Promising Visit: Sharing Our Model for Rural Transformation

We had the privilege of hosting esteemed guests at our Wada office: Mr. Soumaymuni Kumar and Mr. Gajanan Giria. Their visit was driven by a deep curiosity to understand our work and the transformative GVT model that has already seen success in our region. What's truly inspiring is their intention to replicate our model in Raigad district, extending the reach of our mission.

During their visit, we engaged in detailed discussions, sharing insights, and experiences. Mr. Ajay Sutar provided information about GVT's work in Palghar area, and explained the challenges in agriculture in Palghar. Guests also visited a Mogra farm in Savarkhand - witnessing firsthand the impact of our efforts. The feedback they provided was particularly heartening; they expressed newfound confidence in replicating our model in their own community.

The positive interaction they had with our dedicated staff highlights the strength of our GVT family.

Marathwada Noteworthy Events

A review meeting with agricultural authorities

We are delighted to share one of this month's most noteworthy events—a review meeting with agricultural authorities from Beed District. Additionally, Taluka Agriculture Officers and Agricultural Assistants from Parli, Beed, Majalgaon, Dharur, Vadwani, and Ambajogai talukas joined us.

During this insightful gathering, these guests provided valuable updates on the progress and efforts related to the Global Vikas Trust. They also shed light on the Small Finance Bank loan initiatives.

Barwani Noteworthy Events

A Month of Growth and Independence Day Celebration

We actively participated in two days of horticulture training sessions organized by the Horticulture Department in Barwani. These sessions provided a platform to introduce GVT to new farmers, fostering connections.

Furthermore, we attended two crucial Gram Panchayat meetings in Villages - Osada and Anjrada at Pati Tehsil. These meetings were instrumental in identifying new areas for hard crop plantation, including Lemon, Guava, and Custard apple.

We also took a moment to celebrate the spirit of independence on the 15th of August, marking India's Independence Day. Sharing this celebration with our dedicated farmers underscores the sense of unity and purpose that drives us forward.

Jalgaon Noteworthy Events

Strengthening Partnerships: Alkem CSR's Visit to Raver Office

On 31st of August, we had the privilege of hosting Mr. Rajesh Kumar from Alkem CSR, accompanied by an auditor from PwC.

During their visit, the team ventured out to three orchids located in the villages of Kerhala, Khanapur, and Raver. Witnessing the orchids firsthand allowed them to gain insight into our agricultural initiatives and the impact we create in these communities.

Upon returning to our office, a meticulous review ensued as they examined all the relevant documents pertaining to the farmers who have been allocated to Alkem CSR. This comprehensive audit not only ensures transparency but also strengthens the bond of trust between our organizations.

Such collaborative efforts with partners like Alkem CSR are instrumental in our mission to drive rural development and empower farming communities. We're deeply grateful for their continued support and dedication to our shared goals.
