Vision & Mission

Vision

Make India a global superpower again.

Mission

Ensure that every farmer in India earn a minimum of Rs. 1 lakh per acre per annum.
Expand on our proof of concept model using scale, speed, and focus.

Our Cumulative Target for 2022

3 Crore Cumul Fruit Tree Plantations

From my heart

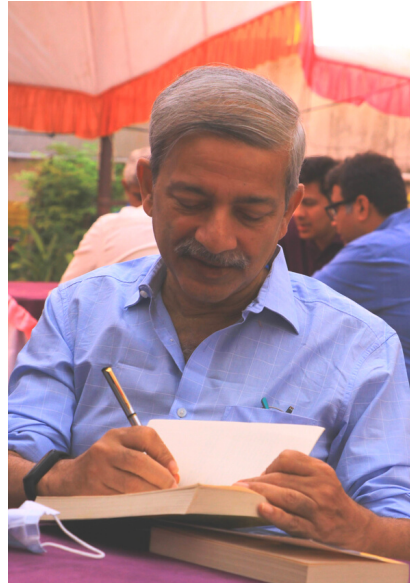

I have always said that Global Vikas Trust is just a medium of change- we are not the ones actually implementing the change. Most of the credit for that lies with the villagers and the farmers who are trying to implement the change to secure their own futures. However, most of this would be difficult without our donors, without whom we would not be able to realize our vision.

In November, we took our advisory board members and our donors on a one-day trip to Parli to see the various works that we did in the region. It was heartwarming to see their reactions when they witnessed with their own eyes how a drought-prone, poverty-struck area transformed into a lush, green region filled with prosperous farmers. I truly believe that at that moment everyone knew that once we scale this project up into every district in the country, we can truly make India a "Sone ki Chidiya" again.

GVT'S DONORS VISIT PARLI

On the 12th of November, Global Vikas Trust along with more than 50 dignitaries, including prominent Industrialists, ex-Chairmen of NABARD, SBI chairpersons, and many more, visited Parli for a day to see the impact GVT has had on the area. We visited several farms, saw the work we did on water harvesting, and attended a public meeting with hundreds of farmers.

Farmer Training in Solapur District.

A farmer training session for banana plantations was organized in the Washimbe and Karmala villages in Solapur district. The training covered ways to plant bananas, as well as details on intercropping.

Visit to Addn. Comm. Aurangabad

Our staff met with the Additional Commissioner of Aurangabad, Shri Sanjay Katkar, and discussed the details of Global Vikas Trust's project to transform India.

Fertilizer training session

Training sessions were conducted for banana plantation to prevent the spreading of disease, along with ways to identify symptoms of these diseases in their crops
